Productions 1000 showcased alongside Washington DC's most prestigious companies and organizations in BEST OF DC: 'Defining Change' in American Leadership

Washington DC - March 26, 2009 - Productions 1000 is proud to be showcased in the BEST OF DC: 'Defining Change' in American Leadership – a unique publishing project that "celebrates the success stories of visionary leaders" fueling a new era of success and sustainability.

This prestigious project is published by Global Village Publishing and Media, one of the world's premier platforms for showcasing and networking governments, leading companies and entrepreneurs in business, tourism and lifestyle. Already in 50 regions worldwide, the Washington DC 360-page yearbook is the very first interactive publication of its kind in the United States.

Productions 1000 welcomes you to view the illustrated profile in the Media chapter on pages 243-244, and to read the Leader Preface contributed by Richard Marks, Founder and President of Productions 1000, for the chapter on Environmentalism, found on pages 66-67: www.productions1000.com/news

The 'BEST OF' global series, says Global Village Publishing, showcase "an ever-expanding Atlas of Success and Sustainability across multiple continents and industries. Journalistically written, the 'BEST OF' books recognise individuals who achieve their entrepreneurial potential ... as well as businesses that accomplish their professional aims and corporate social investment objectives."

We extend our most sincere thanks to Matthew Christian Davis, Managing Director of BEST OF DC, for distinguishing Productions 1000. We are inspired by Matthew's great devotion to positive leadership in America and worldwide.
